Had A Fair Trial.

After a Lengthy Speech He Stepped Out Of the Senate

Washington, May 15.—After the morning session of the senate had seandal grows apace, with every geneded Senator Clark arose to a question of personal privilege and delivered a carefully prepared speech. He created a profound sensation by declaring that he had not had a fair trial before the committee which investigated his case. After he had finished he ended the whole matter by tendering his resignation as a senator. This was a surprise, as he and his friends had stoutly mantained all the time that he would not resign under that he would not resign under the committee's report reversed.

The County Board of Election
Commissioners held a meeting Monday, sitting as a contest board, to try the contested election case of J.
E. Jackson against J. M. McGlothin, growing out of the election for town marshal of Pembroke last fall.
Mr. Jackson was represented by Judge J. T. Hambery and Mr. McGlothin by Mr. W. T. Fowler.
The testimony was in the form of depositions. Several witnesses deposed that in North Pembroke president in North Pembroke president and his friends are in the sheriff of election depositions. Several witnesses deposed that in North Pembroke president and his friends are in the sheriff of election depositions. The cabinet devoting the first of the detached stubs from the ballots in the same ballot box with the posed that in North Pembroke preisinct. the sheet if of election, deposited the detached stubs from the ballots in the same ballot box with the city ballots, some stubs being folded in and others around the ballots. This precinct gave McGlothi lin a majority of three votes. In South Pembroke precinct where Jackson had one majority, McGlothin contested the precinct on the ground that the sheriff of election, in the absence of the sheriff appointed, was not a householder. This fact was not a householder. This fact was sustained.

After hearing argument, the contest Board took the case and agreed upon a judgment, giving the office to Jackson, each party to the tot pay his own costs.

The office of town Marshal pays only about $12 or $15 a month in fees, but the City Council employs the marshal as a policeman at a salary of $50 a month. McGlothlin has been employed for two years by the council and that body will retain him as policeman. This will of course make the office worth but little to the successful contestant.

The decision in the case was not made public until yesterday at ternoon.

A Jore winging its flight over the tracks of the Southern railway near Juliet, Monroe County, collided with a passeager train going in the opposite direction at a high rate of speed year tarday afternoon. The bird's body plunged through the glass window of the ceb. It's beak, sharps as needle's point, pierced the right eye of Eogineer Chas. Wallace and the surgeons sty it destroyed the Engineer's sight temporarily and possibly permanent by temporarily and possibly permanent ly

Engineer Wallace was at the lever of the afternoon passenger train from Macôn when it pulled out of the Uation depot yesterday. The run to dutient was made without incident. After the train left the station the engineer opened the throttle to run the train faster than usual in order to make up a few minutes lost time. The train was bowling along at a sixty-mile-anhour gait.

The engineer's seat in the cab faces the track ahead. A window of glass an eight of an inch thick protects him from the drafts, smoke and einders. He was looking through this window when suddenly the body of the dove burst through the pane of glass and struck him in the face. He was blind ed for an instant and the pain in his eye made him realize at once that he was seriously hurt.

eye made him realize at once that he was seriously hurt.

The fireman on the cab with Engineer Wallace saw the accident and retieved him of his post. The pain increased in Wallace's eye until it was almost unbearable and he finaly went pack into the baggege coach to get such assistance as was possible on the train.

The dove was killed by the sudden contact with the cab window. Its quivering body fell on the iron floor of the engine cab after striking the engineer, and was picked up by the ireman. So great was the moment-um of the train and the dove's body um of the train and the dove's body that the glass window was smashed by the blow of the collision. The hole through which the bird was hurled was clean cut like that made by a bullet fired through glass.

Too Generous.

Mrs. Gabbe—You don't seem to consider my opinions very valuable.
Mr. Gabbe—My dear, I consider them so valuable that it shocks me to see you giving them out so promiscously.—Philadelphia Press.

The Mourner.

While yetthe lamp holdsouttaburn,
The vilest sinner may return;
While his money ho do out to burn
he'il fail,
Most likely, to hit the same back
